

ROSE MORANT

Franco Swiss artist, born in Paris in 1963, based in Hong Kong and Nice.

Following ethnological and social studies, Rose Morant entered the creative side of fashion and simultaneously travelled extensively throughout Asia. She became a creative supplier to the very best European luxury brands due to her expertise of Asian crafts and skills. Research and development have been her primary activities for the last twenty years parallel to having her accessory brand in Paris as well as the direction of her own lacquer workshop in Vietnam. Her very deep interest in traditional savoir-faire and techniques led her to patiently revive ancestral crafts that were disappearing, giving her a rare specialization in this field.

In 2012, Rose Morant started creating contemporary art pieces - sculpture and jewelry. Her work is nourished by her long experience and intimate knowledge of materials and rare techniques.

ABOUT ARTWORKS

Secular materials are at the heart of Rose Morant's work - lacquer, gold leaf, metal, wood, fabrics, precious stones, flower powder... - and she is constantly driven to giving them new life by putting them into new dimensions. Her first sculptures are a series of different scaled spheres made of flower powder, raw lacquer and gold leaf. Precious stones are embedded within the spheres as secret offering giving them a special energy.

Scale is also a central preoccupation in her work - a bracelet can be just a bracelet or become a monumental sculpture. The jewelry collection is a series of unique pieces magically assembled with precious gold or silver detail.
